

When planning your basement, ask all the right questions.

renco.ca | terry@renco.ca | (613) 859 - 2228 1178 Checkers Rd, Ottawa, Ontario K2C 2S7

In most homes, basements are called upon to perform multiple miracles, not the least of which is to hide all the stuff we don't have room for anywhere else. When planning your basement renovation project be sure to consider:

O Current state Is the basement dry? Is it comfortable? Is there adequate headroom? Is there adequate space?	O Mudroom / walkout Depending on the style of your home, perhaps basement access is something to think about
Is it too dark?	O Extra bedroom / guestroom The basement can be great living space too
Mechanicals Allow ample space for furnace, hot water, drains, electrical service, overhead pipes and ductwork	O Basement comfort
Workshop Even if you're not a handyman, every home needs some space for tools and projects	There is no longer any reason why the basement should be thought of as cold, damp, dark or drafty. Modern construction techniques can create a comfortable, warm environment that truly makes the basement a part of the home.
O Laundry There are a lot of good reasons to keep laundry in the basement!	O Ceiling height/underpinning There's no better way to change the feel of the basement than
O Entertainment Basements are great areas to locate a games room or home theatre	by creating more ceiling height. Digging out / underpinning can be a very effective way to get the space you're hoping for.
O Toys, Crafts and Hobbies Are you looking for play / leisure space? Consider storage and easy access	Other things many people consider in the basement Bar area or wine cellar Other hobbies
O Workout space Are you considering a home gym?	Play space
O Storage A significant complaint among homeowners is lack of storage, now's the time to make sure that's not a problem you have	Home office
now strictime to make sure that shot a problem you have	Fireplace